

CATHEDRAL MINISTRY CONFERENCE

and the CONFERENCE OF ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL MUSICIANS

January 14-17, 2019 | St. James Cathedral, Seattle

WHAT IS THE CATHEDRAL MINISTRY CONFERENCE?

The Cathedral Ministry Conference (www.cathedralministry.org) is a biennial meeting of those involved in ministry in Cathedrals and Basilicas throughout North America. Past conferences held in Orlando, San Antonio, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Seattle, St. Augustine, Milwaukee, Salt Lake City, Minneapolis/St. Paul, and Santa Fe have been great successes, allowing cathedral pastors/rectors, musicians, and lay ministers to meet, interact, pray, learn, and be renewed in ministry together. As in past years, the 2019 Cathedral Ministry Conference will offer three stellar keynote presentations that will be of interest to all who are engaged in cathedral ministry as well as workshops aimed at a variety of more particular interests and concerns. The conference provides time for networking and fellowship with other cathedral ministers from around the country. This is a unique opportunity to share ideas with counterparts from cities large and small around the United States.

CONFERENCE OF ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL MUSICIANS (CRCCM)

In 2019 we gather jointly with the Conference of Roman Catholic Cathedral Musicians (www.crccm.org), an annual collegial gathering of musicians serving cathedral churches in the United States and Canada. CRCCM both seeks and stands ready to consult with other liturgical and musical organizations in the pursuit of beauty and excellence in worship, for the spiritual and cultural enrichment of the community, and the greater glory of God. The 2019 Seattle Conference will be a special opportunity to gather Cathedral musicians with Cathedral rectors/pastors and lay ministers for a time of shared learning, collegiality, and networking.

ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL, SEATTLE

St. James Cathedral (www.stjames-cathedral.org) is the cathedral for the Archdiocese of Seattle and the parish church for a large and diverse community of more than 2,400 families. Situated high on a hill, St. James plays both sentinel and beacon as it stands watch over a vibrant city, calling people to prayer, challenging them to justice, enticing them with beauty. Since its noteworthy restoration and renovation of 1994, the cathedral has become known for its beautiful liturgies, its critically acclaimed music program, and its extensive and innovative programs of outreach to the poor. St. James Cathedral has also become Seattle's ecumenical and interfaith gathering place at times of crisis and mourning, a center for the arts, and a crossroads for civic conversation.

THE CITY OF SEATTLE

Seattle is the fastest growing major city in the US, and is the home of Amazon, Starbucks, Microsoft, Boeing, Nordstrom, and Costco, to name a few. And Seattle is an attractive city year round – even in January! In addition to the city's famous natural surroundings—mountains, lakes, and a large inland sea—and well-known landmarks like the Space Needle and the Pike Place Market, there are many other attractions. Seattle is a regional capital for the arts, with many museums, galleries, and concert halls. In the course of the 2019 Conference, you will have ample opportunities to explore one of our country's most beautiful cities.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION AND FEES

The registration fee is $395 for a single person, $375 each for multiple registrants from the same Cathedral. Please make your check payable to ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL and send by December 1, 2018 to:

Archbishop Wilton D. Gregory

The Hungers of a Wealthy People: The Eucharistic Bread of Life

The Celebration of the Eucharist seeks to satisfy the hungers of the human heart in ways that no mere food can ever achieve. When we come to Mass, we discover just how hungry we are for the things that so often go unnoticed in our daily lives – spiritual yearnings that are far too important to be neglected or ignored.

ARCHBISHOP WILTON GREGORY has served in many leading roles in the U.S. church. In November 2001, he was elected president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops following three years as vice president. He currently serves as the chair of the USCCB Committee on Divine Worship. Archbishop Gregory has written extensively on church issues, including pastoral statements on the death penalty, euthanasia/physician-assisted suicide and has published numerous articles on the subject of liturgy, particularly in the African-American community.

Diana Macalintal and Nick Wagner

The Cathedral as the Mother and Model for Making Disciples

“Bishops are the chief stewards of the mysteries of God and leaders of the entire liturgical life in the Church committed to them” (General Introduction: Christian Initiation, 12). As “mother church” of a diocese, the Cathedral holds a vital role in the bishop’s work of directing the way we initiate seekers into these mysteries. In this keynote, we will explore the challenges and rewards of a Cathedral catechumenate ministry that can serve as the diocesan model for making disciples.

NICK WAGNER and DIANA MACALINTAL are the founders and codirectors of TeamRCIA.com, a free online resource for catechumenate ministry, which they began in 2007 from their home in San Jose, California. TeamRCIA assists parish ministers to convert hearts to Jesus Christ through parish initiation ministry by helping them build thriving parishes, break free of “the way we’ve always done it,” and go way beyond their perceived limits to be inspired and inspiring. Today TeamRCIA is a community of over 20,000 parish ministers and volunteers throughout North America and beyond. Through the website, live training institutes, and a series of books published in partnership with Liturgical Press, TeamRCIA provides accessible and effective RCIA resources that help parish teams form disciples for Christ’s mission.

Father Dave Dwyer, CSP

Leaving the Upper Room: How the Church Needs to Reach Out to the Millennial Generation

At Pentecost the first disciples were propelled forth by the Spirit, from the comfort and tight-knit community of the Upper Room out into the world to evangelize. Do our cathedral ministries embrace Pope Francis’ call to remember that “Jesus is the Lord of risk, of the eternal ‘more,’ not the Lord of comfort, security and ease” (WYD 2016). How can we leave our comfortable Upper Rooms (even virtually!) to make connections with a generation that has shown that they will not come knock on our door? Fr. Dave will speak about how we can be more proactive in reaching young adults.

FR. DAVE DWYER, CSP is a Paulist priest and director of Busted Halo Ministries, publisher of BustedHalo.com and YoungAdultMinistryInaBox.com, host of the “Sacraments 101” videos and “The Busted Halo Show” every afternoon on SiriusXM radio. He has appeared on CNN, Fox News, NBC News, Entertainment Tonight and The Daily Show. He worked in campus ministry at the Universities of Colorado and Texas. Prior to ordination he directed television for MTV and Comedy Central.

- A-1 The Power of Sacred Art, the Art of Sacred Power
From its very beginnings the Catholic Church has engaged the sacred arts in the proclamation and the celebration of the faith. This workshop will offer a brief overview of the role art has played in the life of the church throughout the ages. We will then explore how the arts may assist in the building up of our church in the very diverse and complex world we live in today. Presenter: Johan Van Parys, Basilica of St. Mary, Minneapolis
- A-2 The Past is Present: Sharing your Cathedral History
This workshop explores how the stories we tell from our diocesan and Cathedral history can help us understand the unique charism of our local church and can also serve as a powerful tool for evangelization. Presenters: Corinna Laughlin, Director of Liturgy, St. James Cathedral; and Seth Dalby, Archivist, Archdiocese of Seattle.
- A-3 The First Years of Cathedral Ministry
Cathedral ministry is a unique form of pastoral ministry. This presentation, facilitated by two experienced pastors, will focus on the challenges and exciting possibilities that come with pastoring a cathedral community. The presenters will share some of their insights but the heart of the workshop will be responses to questions submitted in advance by those intending to participate. Presenters: Father Michael G. Ryan, Pastor, St. James Cathedral, Seattle; and Father John Bauer, Pastor, Basilica of St. Mary, Minneapolis.
- A-4 Starting a Youth Ministry Program—from scratch!
Youth ministry is one of the most important things we do in our parishes. Two experienced youth ministers share the wisdom learned from starting an inner-city youth ministry program from scratch, and talk about how to integrate service and ministry opportunities into youth ministry. Presenters: Joe Cotton and Curtis Leighton, St. James Cathedral, Seattle.
- A-5 Faithful Citizenship: The Cathedral as Public Witness
As Catholics, we have an obligation to advocate for the common good, yet many of us shy away from engaging in the political sphere. How can we speak the prophetic word in our polarized political environment? This workshop will explore ways to grow as faithful advocates. We will also look at some of the opportunities and challenges unique to Cathedrals in engaging in political advocacy. Presenter: Patty Bowman, longtime Outreach Director at St. James Cathedral, now director of the Intercommunity Peace and Justice Center in Seattle.

CATHEDRAL AS THE MOTHER AND MODEL FOR MAKING DISCIPLES
10:30am Coffee Break/Visit with our vendors

11:00am Workshops: Series C CHOOSE ONE OF SIX

- C-1 The Liturgical Environment: A Practical Workshop
Dressing the church throughout the liturgical year supports our prayer and worship practices. Seasonal embellishments in our churches identify visually, and to all of our senses, the Paschal and Incarnational cycles of the Liturgical Year. This session will give a greater understanding of the appropriate placement, scale and symbolism of objects in our liturgical environment. Presenter: Carol Frenning, President, Association of Consultants for Liturgical Spaces.
- C-2 The Rights and Wrongs of the Rite of Election
One of the main liturgies of the diocese is the Rite of Election, which is the "focal point of the Church's concern for the catechumens" (RCIA, 121). It is one of the few annual diocesan liturgies at which people from every parish participate, and it is often the first experience of catechumens and their godparents of the bishop and the wider church. This liturgy can be a formative moment for discipleship, or it can be a confusing ritual that miscatechizes the purpose of election. We'll discuss some pitfalls to avoid and ways to rethink this liturgy within the context of the intention of the rite. Presenter: Diana Macalintal.
- C-3 Capital Campaigns: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly
In this lively panel discussion, experienced fundraisers share stories of capital campaign successes as well as asks that went awry. We'll explore campaigns both large and small and invite participants to share their experiences as well. Presenters: Deacon Pierce Murphy, Executive Director of Stewardship and Development, Archdiocese of Seattle; Monsignor Robert Ritchie, St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City; Terri Ashmore, Basilica of St. Mary, Minneapolis.
- C-4 Come, Follow Me: Preaching Workshop
An opportunity for priests and deacons attending the conference to explore the ministry of preaching with a gifted preacher and teacher. Presenter: Bishop Daniel Mueggenborg, auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Seattle. Bishop Mueggenborg is the author of Come Follow Me, reflections on the Sunday Gospels.
- C-5 All about Alpha
Have you thought about launching Alpha in your parish? Do you have questions about the program and how it fits in the Catholic or Cathedral setting? This panel will explore the challenges and blessings of undertaking Alpha in both urban and neighborhood settings. Presenters: Julianna Castro, St. James Cathedral; Johnny Hom, Holy Family Parish, Kirkland; and Cathy Rowley, Mary Queen of Peace, Sammamish.

"The idea comes to me from outside of me, and is like a gift. I then take the idea and make it my own—that is where the skill lies." An extraordinary opportunity to explore Brahms' organ and sacred choral works with two gifted professors. CAROLE TERRY is a renowned performer and pedagogue of the organ and harpsichord. Especially known for her performances and recordings of German Romantic music, she is also an expert on the physiology of keyboard performance -- the subject of her forthcoming academic work. GEORGE BOZARTH specializes in 19th-century studies, especially the music of Johannes Brahms and musical life in Boston. He is also interested in the early history of the piano. He was the founding Executive Director of the American Brahms Society, 1983–2014.

For those really willing to look and to search, there is a greatness to be discovered in a cathedral and a whole world of opportunities to be explored. Cathedrals realize a few of those opportunities, but only a few, and I know a cathedral will lose its soul the day it thinks it has realized them all. Cathedrals, like so many other human enterprises, are works in progress, unfinished symphonies. Like the God they are meant to image and honor, they defy easy definition and they never run out of possibilities.

Father Michael G. Ryan
St. James Cathedral, Seattle
